Find secret compartments in slain con's shoes

An examination of shoes worn by a prison escapee who was shot to death by a Washington C.H. police officer following a brief alley gun battle early Wednesday afternoon has disclosed secret compartments in the heels and soles, Police Chief Rodman Scott said Thursday.

However, state corrections department officials have declined to speculate on whether makeshift weapons used in a bizarre escape by four Lucasville penitentiary inmates were carried in the secret compartments found in one of the convicts' shoes.

"The holes were large enough to carry plenty of items," Scott said following an examination of the shoes late Thursday afternoon. "The escapees would have no trouble putting a wire snare and small gas cylinders in the holes. But we don't know what was in there."

SCOTT SAID the thick-soled work shoes were worn by Doyle Manning, the first-degree murder convict who was fatally wounded by Washington C.H. police officer Michael Stritenberger during an exchange of gunfire Wednesday in a downtown alley.

The Washington C.H. police chief said the secret compartments were thickly padded and invisible from the inside and outside.

The shoes had a thick inside liner and "with that in there, there was no way of telling," Scott said.

He said Police Specialist Larry Hott and jailer-dispatcher Mike Taylor discovered the compartments while examining Manning's clothing. He said the compartments were empty.

Specialist Hott and Taylor, an auxiliary officer, found the compartments while searching Manning's clothing during autopsy proceedings in Columbus Thursday.

Scott said Hott and Taylor had accompanied the body to Columbus for removal of the fatal bullet from Manning's head. He said the clothing check is a standard police procedure and is used to maintain a chain of evidence.

The dimensions of the slotted cavities were released by Scott. He said the hole in the heel measured one and three-fourths inches long, one and a half inches wide and one and a fourth inches deep.

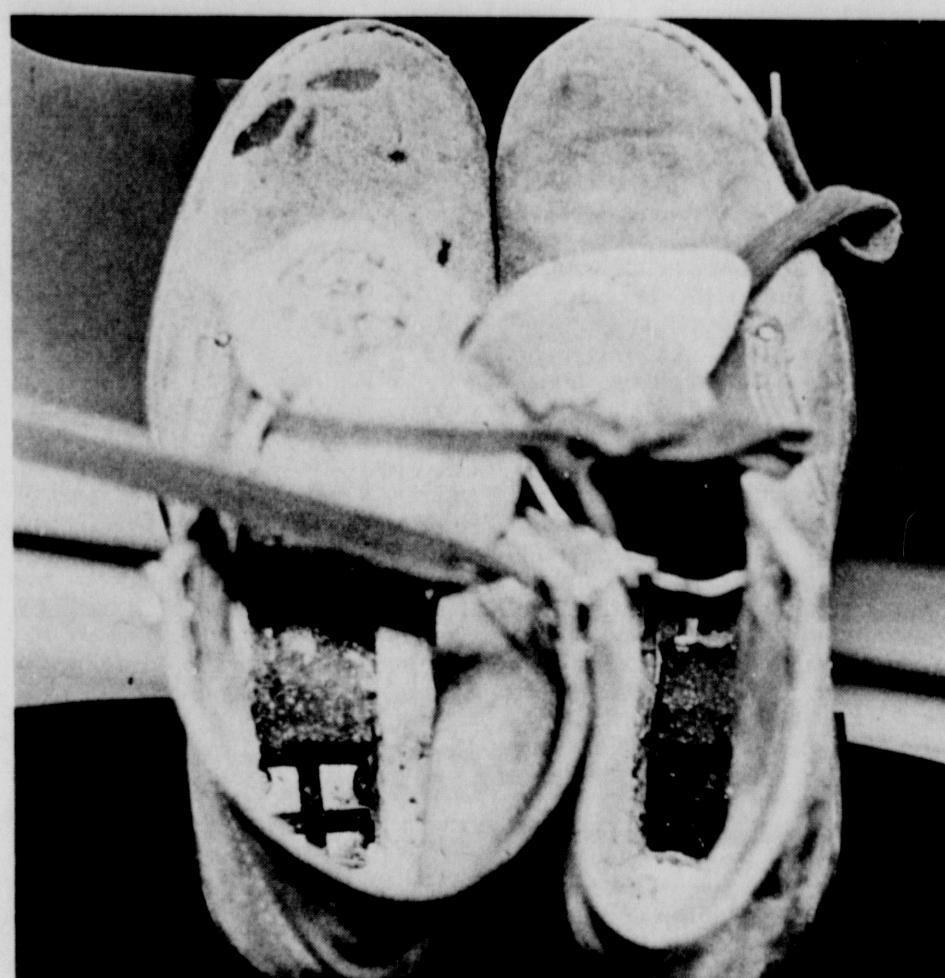

The slot in the sole measured one and a fourth inches in width, a half-inch in depth and six and three-fourths inches in length.

A spokesman for the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections in Columbus said there would be no comment on the discovery by the Washington C.H. police officers until the Ohio Highway Patrol completes its investigation of the incident.

Manning and three other companion inmates, also serving life sentences in the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, escaped from custody Wednesday while being transported from Lucasville to Columbus for trials in Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

SECRET COMPARTMENTS — The shoes worn by a prison escapee shot to death in Washington C.H. Wednesday after firing twice at a city police officer had secret compartments in the heels and soles. Supersonic jet said costly flop

PARIS (AP) — The new British government appears ready to write off the Concorde supersonic airliner as one of the costliest commercial flops in history.

The French government wants to expand the joint project and build more of the big, needle-nosed planes.

British Industry Minister Anthony Wedgwood Benn is meeting today in Paris with Aymar Achille-Fould, the French secretary of state for transport, to discuss the Concorde's future.

French officials have said they plan to go through with the program despite the British hesitation and growing disaffection among the French public. When conceived in the 1960s, the Concorde was enthusiastically backed

No-fault vote slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Senate subcommittee appears near settlement on a House-passed no-fault insurance bill, but a final vote is not scheduled until Monday.

The Senate Financial Institutions, Insurance, Elections Committee okayed several important amendments Thursday.

One would raise from $250 to $1,500 the minimum size a claim must be before a suit could go into court.

Since fewer court claims would cut costs, the Senate panel mandated a 10 per cent cut in insurance premiums instead of the 5 per cent proposed by the House.

The no-fault bill is among a handful of measures lawmakers hope to finalize before beginning a month-long recess Wednesday.

Kissinger to meet Dayan on Middle East problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has promised the Russians he will keep in close touch as he tries to work out an Israeli withdrawal in the Golan Heights.

Kissinger begins his talks with Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan today. He returned Thursday night from his trip to Moscow, which he said failed to accomplish a breakthrough that could lead to a new arms limitation agreement with the Soviets.

Kissinger reports to Nixon before meeting with Dayan.

The secretary clearly expects the Israelis to concede some pre-October War territory on the Golan Heights, possibly even the city of Quneitra, in addition to withdrawing from the ground gained after the joint Yom Kippur attack by Syria and Egypt.

A senior U.S. official said Kissinger hopes to work out outlines of a troop separation agreement separately with Israel and Syria within a month and then swing through the Middle East to nail it down.

Besides his frequent contacts with the Soviets through Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, he intends to enlist the aid of Egypt and Algeria in persuading the Syrians to limit their demands.

Kissinger receives Dayan at the State Department after a tough three-day round of negotiations with the Soviets in Moscow. He had left for the trip hoping to achieve a breakthrough that would lead to a new treaty limiting offensive nuclear weapons. Failing in that, however, he may have gained some ground on Jewish emigration and confirmed that President Nixon intends to go to a Moscow summit with Comby the French people. But a poll last week showed that 45 per cent of those asked favored abandonment of the plane to cut down government spending.

The two governments are spending an estimated $2.3 billion to develop a plane that by 1976 will be carrying only about 100 passengers from London to New York in 3½ hours.

The plane now costs about $60 million each to build, and the British Aircraft Corp. and Aerospatiale have 16 of them in the works. But only nine have been sold — to British Airways and Air France, which means that the British and French governments are selling them to themselves.

Commercial airlines have dropped more than 20 options to buy. A secret French government report is said to estimate that no more than 33 of the planes can be sold on the world market. The rising cost of jet fuel has added to the airlines' doubts that they can make a profit on Concorde travel.

Claim Stans admitted to perjury

NEW YORK (AP) — G. Bradford Cook, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, says Maurice H. Stans admitted to him that he lied to a grand jury investigating a secret $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

Moreover, Cook testified that Stans persuaded him to lie twice to the same grand jury to cover up the $200,000 contribution from financier Robert L. Vesco. But in a third appearance, Cook said, he decided to "tell it as it was."

A jury trying ex-Commerce Secretary Stans and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell on criminal conspiracy charges heard Cook testify Thursday that his decision to lie came during a White House meeting alone with Stans.

The witness said the defendant told him: "There's no sense in getting everybody embarrassed."

The tall, bald Cook is scheduled to return to the witness stand today to undergo cross-examination by Stans' chief defense attorney, Walter Bonner. The testimony of the former SEC chieftain was the strongest yet against Stans in the six-week old trial, and Bonner will be striving to demolish or dilute it.

Mitchell and Stans are accused of impeding a massive SEC fraud investigation of Vesco's financial empire in return for the $200,000 campaign contribution.

A Syrian mission is due to bargain with Kissinger separately around April 11.

Ohio Assembly to stay in business after recess

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, turned thumbs down Thursday to a suggestion the legislature should quit for the year next week instead of taking a month's recess.

He was asked about rumors in the Senate as well as the House that the lawmakers should agree on whatever matters they can, then take "sine die" adjournment. That action would put the legislature out of business unless called back in special session.

"I know there are some members who would like to do that, but there's no way," said Lancione. He added: "We'd get run out of the state if we tried something like that after our recent pay raise."

He said it is his idea that the legislature should return May 8 — after the recess starting April 3 — and then work "until sometime in June, before taking another recess until a date certain."

There could be several such recesses between now and the end of the year, keeping the legislature alive, he said. "I think we should make ourselves available all year because of the energy crisis, if for no other reason," the speaker said.

White House complying with request

President to yield subpoenaed data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today it will provide special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski with the materials he has sought by subpoena.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler passed this word to newsmen hurriedly and without elaboration.

Neither the White House nor Jaworski have said what was sought in the subpoena.

There was no immediate opportunity to question the White House spokesman as to whether all of the materials covered in the Jaworski subpoena

Earlier, White House lawyer James D. St. Clair and members of the special prosecutor's office agreed to meet this afternoon as the deadline approached on the prosecutor's latest demand for presidential files.

On another subject, White House spokesman Gerald L. Warren said Thursday it was a matter of court record that tapes do not exist of conversations sought by the House Judiciary Committee which occurred after a recorder ran out of tape.

Warren did not make any estimate of how many conversations might not have been taped as a result of the machine running out of tape, but an analysis of the court documents indicated that perhaps five conversations were not taped.

On Jaworski's demand for additional documents, Warren said the subpoena "is under review and under consideration in the counsel's office."

When pressed on whether the President would comply, he would only say "the President has an abiding interest and dedication to obeying the law."

Neither the White House nor the special prosecutor's office would say what documents or tapes were subpoenaed.

Tornadoes, storms rake Deep South

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, thunderstorms and hail raked the Deep South today, causing considerable damage and some injuries.

Alabama and Louisiana were hardest hit, as a tornado touched down near Ruston, La., during the night, injuring three persons and damaging trees and property.

Another tornado near Tuscaloosa, Ala., was accompanied by hail, some the size of baseballs. Tornado watches for parts of Alabama and Georgia were in effect for most of the night.

To the north, showers and thunderstorms spread through the middle Mississippi Valley and Ohio Valley into the Middle Atlantic States.

Drizzle and fog were common in sections of Iowa, Missouri and Illinois.

Freezing rain fell on portions of Wisconsin and Minnesota, where travel advisories were issued. And in Lower Michigan, the freezing rain came in the aftermath of an ice and snow storm that layered areas with up to an inch of ice Thursday.

High winds gusted through the mountains of Colorado, and gale warnings flew along the Pacific coast. More rain fell in California and the Northwest, and travel advisories for snow were posted inland in the mountains.

Fair skies were spotty above the nation, found mainly over the lower Plains and Rockies, parts of the south Atlantic Coast, and New England.

But along with New England's clear skies came a dose of Arctic cold, hitting a March 28 record low of 12 at Portland International Airport, Maine.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 6 at Massena, N.Y., to 76 at Key West, Fla.

a compromise bill that establishes a five-member state energy commission.

It could take emergency actions to help meet any energy crisis, but they could be in effect only for 30 days under the bill as now written. Beyond that, the legislature would have to step in

"whether it might be gasoline rationing or other things the federal government might leave to the states," Lancione said.

The Senate and House moved through routine floor sessions before adjourning for the weekend.

Senators added their approval to a House bill setting up uniform regulations for the state's estimated 500 migrant labor camps with sponsors claiming it will insure that they all have "safe and sanitary living facilities."

Majority House Democrats used their margin and needed it to approve 50-35 an administration bill that allows either the new Department of Administrative Services or the Office of Budget and Management to void contracts entered into by the state agencies.

The bill, which needed 50 votes to pass, was opposed by minority Republicans. They included Rep. Waldo Bennett Rose, R-64 Lima, who said he saw it as a means of "re-enforcing the administration's ability to impound funds appropriated by the legislature."

Ervin also accused Saxbe of "violating his solemn agreement ... that he would leave all matters related to Watergate to special prosecutor Leon Jaworski." Saxbe replied through a spokesman that the brief "addressed itself to institutional issues and not to merits in the case."

Special interest groups flooding party coffers first from the special interest organizations.

The study shows the Democratic House and Senate campaign committees took in $1.2 million from special interests in 1972, including party fund raising committees. Comparable Republican committees received $1.8 million from the same sources.

Common Cause estimates these interest committees had $14.2 million on hand at the end of February — as much or more than they spent in all of 1972. This does not include money they may already have given to candidates in this fall's elections.

"Anyone who thinks the Watergate scandals have put special interest givers out of business had better take a close look at these figures," Fred Wertheimer, director of the Common Cause Campaign Finance Monitoring Project, said at a Thursday news conference.

"The failure of this Congress to pass effective campaign finance reform legislation has meant that the 1974 congressional races are going to see far more giving by special interest groups than showed up in 1972," Wertheimer said.

New Navy chief to slow Zumwalt pace of change

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's selection of Adm. James L. Holloway III to become the Navy's new chief signals the end of a turbulent period of reform that split the Navy officer corps.

When Holloway takes the helm from Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr. as chief of naval operations three months from today, he is expected to usher in a new phase, during which the pace of change will be slowed.

The new CNO is not likely to reverse course, but probably will move to strengthen command authority. Critics said authority of ship and base commanders was eroded under Zumwalt's pressure for greater consultation with lower ranks, relaxed restrictions on hair and dress, emphasis on minority recognition and other measures intended to improve Navy life.

Officers who have worked closely with Holloway say he has "a feel for the traditional."

Secretary of the Navy John W. Warner felt it was time for a middle-of-the-road CNO, and Holloway was his choice. That choice was endorsed by Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger.

Navy sources said Holloway took no part in the factional infighting between pro-and anti-Zumwalt factions, and this probably helped win him the job.

Hearst fearful for daughter's life

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Two alleged members of the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army predict freedom for kidnaped newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst.

But Randolph A. Hearst says he fears the worst for his daughter if he does not hear soon from her SLA kidnapers on his plans to set up a $4 million trust to buy more food for the poor if Miss Hearst is released unharmed.

"If I didn't hear from them at this point, or somebody didn't hear from them, or have some kind of negotiations taking place, I would then be fearful that Patty is dead," Hearst told newsmen Thursday in announcing the $4 million will be placed in trust.

"But I don't believe she is, and I think I will hear from them," added Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner and chairman of the Hearst Corp.

Hearst has not heard from the kidnapers in 19 days.

The SLA, which claims it kidnaped the University of California coed Feb.

4, had demanded the additional $4 million as a condition to negotiations for her release. Distribution was completed this week of food bought with $2 million initially provided by Hearst and the Hearst Corp. More than 150,000 bags of groceries were handed out.

Meanwhile, Joseph Remiro, 27, and Russell Little, 24, told Miss Hearst in a letter from their jail cell that they "feel confident the SLA will release you unharmed." The open letter was received Thursday by Berkeley radio station KPFA and the Examiner.

In another development, an Alameda County grand jury indicted Remiro and Little on murder charges in the Nov. 6 cyanide-bullet assassination of Oakland Schools Supt. Marcus Foster, a crime for which the SLA also has taken responsibility.

Authorities have described the SLA as a heavily armed, multiracial group of about 25 persons. The group has claimed that Remiro and Little are its "soldiers."

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 until 9 p.m. Monday. Burial will be in Bloomingburg Cemetery.

New energy bill pushed by solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has begun work on a new energy bill that sponsors say should result in lower prices for gasoline.

The bill introduced Thursday by Sen. Henry M. Jackson and Rep. Harley O. Staggers replaces the energy-emergency measure vetoed by President Nixon on March 6.

Jackson's Senate Interior Committee will begin final work on the bill next week, bypassing the usual public hearings.

Jackson, of Washington State, and Staggers, the West Virginian who heads the House Commerce Committee, said the new bill was offered because it was impossible to compromise differences with the Nixon administration over the vetoed measure.

The key element in the new bill would limit the ability of the large multinational oil companies to pass on to consumers the higher costs of imported oil.

Jackson said this provision should result in sharply lower prices for crude oil, perhaps as much as $3 a barrel below the current $10.50 price. He said this should bring lower gasoline prices.

The senator refused to speculate whether the new bill could be passed over the opposition of the Nixon administration and oil-state representatives who were against the original measure.

Nixon's chief objection to the bill he vetoed was a provision forcing a rollback in oil prices. The new bill contains no such provision but would require the president to maintain rigid ceilings on the prices of oil and petroleum products.

With the exception of the oilprice question, the new bill is essentially the same as the old, Jackson said.

The new bill would allow the large companies to pass on to consumers only the imported oil price increases resulting from higher taxes and royalties paid to foreign countries. But even that increase would be reduced by the gain accruing to the companies as a result of lower liabilities for U.S. taxes.

In other energy developments:

—A retired executive of Standard Oil Co. of California told senators there was no significance to a 1968 company memo forecasting a decade of worldwide oil surplus. The memo had come to light in a Senate subcommittee's investigation of international oil operations.

—Experts for the American Petroleum Institute said oil price increases in 1973 probably halted or even reversed an apparent decline in U.S. crude oil reserves.

—The Nixon administration told Congress it will not ask for legislation waiving environmental impact statements for energy projects.

Sen. Douglas Applegate, D-30 Steubenville, proposed in one of them to allow 17-year-olds to vote if they will be 18 by the next general election.

—Require proof that a car owner has liability insurance before he is allowed to purchase license plates.

—Expand the homestead property tax exemption for the elderly to include owners of house trailers.

—Permit the use of studded snow tires until June 1, rather than the present March 15.

Flooding was reported in lowlying sections of Toledo today and lake shore warnings for flooding western Lake Erie west of Vermilion were issued by the National Weather Service. The flood warning includes the Michigan shore north to the Detroit River.

Lake flooding along parts of the Toledo shore not protected by dikes was reported. Flooding also was reported to have closed a number of highways in the Ottawa-Sandusky County area, including Ohio 53, Ohio 269 and Ohio 2 west of Port Clinton near the Davis-Besse nuclear power plant.

The weather service said easterly winds are forecast to continue over Lake Erie today, turning to southeasterly tonight.

Water levels receded to around six feet above low water lines at Toledo during the early morning hours today, but was expected to rise during the morning, weather observers said. Water levels this morning were expected to exceed the peak reached at Toledo of 7.2 feet Thursday evening.

Authorities said persons in the western lake area should take precautions.

Showers and thunderstorms moved into southern and central Ohio early Friday. A low pressure area over the central Mississippi Valley is drifting eastward with showers and thunderstorms moving with and ahead of the low.

The showers and thunderstorms were expected to be heavy at times this afternoon in the central and southern sections. A nearly stationary front with an east-WEST orientation lies across northern Ohio.

Saturday the showers and thunderstorms will end in the south and central sections while continuing north. Temperatures will continue mild.

Fair skies are forecast Sunday and Monday and a chance of showers Tuesday. Temperatures will be mild with highs in the 50s and 60s and lows in the 30s Sunday, warming to the 40s Tuesday.

CHICAGO (AP) — "The ordeal of indictment and trial taught me a lesson I'll never forget," says a former Chicago policeman found innocent of shaking down taverns for kickbacks.

James Psichalinos, 31, and two other former officers found innocent of the charges talked Thursday about what it was like to live on the outer edge of the law.

"If you ever charge a man with a crime, you've got to be very, very sure the charge is justified," Psichalinos said. "I enjoyed police work, but I have serious doubts that I'll try to go back on the force."

The other former officers cleared of the charges Tuesday were James Gartner, 36, and Eugene Manion, 45, the father of 11 children.

They were among 61 officers indicted in scheme that involved an alleged $275,000 in kickbacks. The investigation has resulted so far in 47 convictions and a dozen acquittals.

Manion, an 18-year veteran of the force, would like to return and is to have a police board hearing in May. Since his indictment eight months ago,

Kidnap of American official kept mum due to threat

HERMOSILLO, Mexico (AP) — The disappearance of American Vice Consul John Patterson was kept secret five days because the ransom note contained a death threat, another American diplomat reported Thursday night.

"That was the main reason we didn't want to break this, because they said if this was published they would carry out the threat," the source said.

Patterson, 31, disappeared last Friday after he left the United States Consulate in Hermosillo with an unidentified man for a livestock meeting. The U.S. Embassy in Mexico City announced Wednesday that he had been kidnaped, and sources in Washington reported a ransom note demanding $500,000 and signed by the People's Revolutionary Army of Mexico had been slipped under the consulate door.

American officials said the U.S. government would not modify its policy of refusing to pay ransom for its employees. But Consul-General Elmer E. Yelton said Patterson's 28-year-old wife "has made very possible effort to follow instructions contained in the ransom note."

"Mrs. Patterson has received no word from her husband or third parties," he said.

The Washington Star-News reported that Patterson's family in Philadelphia had raised $250,000 demanded by the kidnappers as the first part of the ransom. The paper said the first payment was to be made at Nogales, the border town south of Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Patterson has not been seen in Hermosillo since Wednesday.

Mexico's Federal Security Board — similar to the FBI — said at least 50 agents were in Hermosillo working on the Patterson case.

Patterson was vice consul for agrarian and cattle affairs at the consulate and had been in Hermosillo less than three months on his first foreign assignment.

Hearing scheduled on school program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Carl Rubin has scheduled a hearing for April 15 in Dayton on a suit challenging Columbus' $89.5 million school building program.

The suit was filed by parents of eight school children, arguing the program would further racial discrimination.

Ohio shoppers find prices still rising

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There was good news and there was bad news for Ohio food shoppers today.

Meat sold from 3 to 8 per cent lower than a month ago — but price hikes in sugar, milk, peanut butter and cookies among 14 selected food items included in an Associated Press survey just about wiped out the savings.

On the average of a dozen Ohio cities checked, the marketbasket of 14 items ran just 10 cents or 1 per cent down from a month ago.

The items in the marketbasket include center cut pork chops, chopped chuck, beef frankfurters, eggs, butter, chocolate chip cookies, frozen orange juice, paper towels, peanut butter, detergent, softener, tomato sauce, milk and sugar.

On the check list were Akron, Athens, Cleveland, Columbus, Conneaut, Lima, Massillon, Portsmouth, Van Wert, Youngstown, Coshocton and Zanesville.

Not every city benefited from the general downward trend of the three meat categories, although on average center cut pork chops showed an 8.4 per cent lower price. The range of prices across the state was wide — from $1.09 a pound in Athens and Van Wert to $1.79 a pound in the state's most expensive food city, Columbus.

A slightly lower price of $1.69 prevailed in Lima, Portsmouth and Zanesville.

Chopped chuck showed a lesser price decline of 5.1 per cent on the average — from $1.09 in Youngstown to $1.49 a pound in Columbus.

All beef frankfurters stubbornly clung to an average price of $1.25 a pound, only 3.2 per cent off the first of March. Price range was from 93 cents as a Massillon special to $1.49 in Columbus. In general the franks ranged from $1.19 to $1.36 a pound.

As the Easter season approached, eggs slid to an average price of 68 cents a dozen — eight cents lower than actual cost to the supermarket chains.

A chain spokesman said, "I just think the housewife rebelled at 90-cent eggs. There's less demand, but the actual cost this week was 76 cents a dozen for mediums. Anything below that is being used as a leader."

The bargain places for eggs were Athens and Portsmouth, where a dozen mediums cost only 57 cents and large were two cents higher.

Prices ranged from a high of 82 cents at Lima, 76 cents at Zanesville, 79 cents at Van Wert to bargain prices of 59 cents in Coshocton and Massillon. Eggs were obviously an item to shop for.

The rest of the way on the shopping list there was only one way prices moved — up.

Leading the pack was sugar, up a rounding 9.5 per cent to an average of $1.03 for five pounds. This meant sugar had risen 25.5 per cent in one month and still was below the reported wholesale price of $1.17 per five pounds.

Five months ago the same stores showed an average of 80 cents for five pounds and as late as Feb. 1 the average was only 81 cents for five pounds.

Zanesville led the dozen cities in cheap sugar — 89 cents for five pounds. Nearest to that came Athens and Portsmouth with 95 cents. Again, expensive Columbus led the list with $1.29 for five pounds of granulated sugar.

Milk got hiked twice wholesale during March and that forced a 2-cent-a-quart increase in retail prices to an average of 44 cents.

Butter, which essentially is produced from last month's milk and stored, edged up only one cent a pound, from 87 to 88 cents on the average.

Paper towels climbed 3.7 per cent in the month, averaging 55 cents for a two-roll package compared to 53 cents March 1, and chocolate chip cookies bounced up 5.5 per cent and only a leader item in Zanesville kept the climb from being steeper.

The Zanesville supermarket shopped with the 14 and one-half ounce package at 63 cents, while every other supermarket in the other 11 cities priced the package at 79 cents.

The survey showed Columbus well ahead of its nearest rival as the most expensive city to buy food. The basket of 14 selected items would cost $11.83 in Columbus, compared to the low total price of $9.46 in Massillon.

The average for the state was $10.60 for the basket, 10 cents lower than March 1.

The average basket price added up this way in shopped cities: Akron $10.42, down 15 cents; Athens $10.32, down 70 cents; Cleveland $10.19, down 21 cents; Conneaut $10.32, down 44 cents; Lima $10.91; Massillon $9.46, down 58 cents; Portsmouth $10.62; Van Wert $10.52, up 24 cents; Youngstown $10.86, up 20 cents.

Time to get in shape

This is the time of year when the sports photographers regale us with shots of baseball players "getting into shape" at spring training camps. Very instructive, these views of the athletes grimacing their way through muscle-toning contortions. Instructive - and, if we were but open to suggestion, inspiring.

The fact is, baseball players are not the only fellows who can profit by a little getting-into-shape effort. Most of us tend to grow sluggish toward winter's tag end. Some, if the truth be told, depend on winter clothes to hide incipient pot bellies. But the day of reckoning cometh.

Crucial court case

A number of readers have written asking my views on the De Funis case, which currently is under consideration by the Supreme Court.

Marco De Funis, a Sephardic Jew, applied in 1971 to the University of Washington Law School. To encapsulate a rather complex story, he was rejected, although 36 "minority" applicants with credentials inferior to his were accepted.

De Funis brought suit on the ground that he was to discriminate against them. (The use of the word "minority" here is a bit ironic: blacks constitute about 12 per cent of the population, while Sephardic Jews are rarer than Uzbeks!)

The reason I have not devoted any space to this litigation is that, frankly, I am unhappy about the potential Supreme Court decision - whichever way it goes.

The difficulty with a court decision in so tricky and sensitive an area is that it has to be fungible - that is, provide general rules for future use. A holding in favor of De Funis could have the consequence of invalidating all "affirmative action" programs; a holding in favor of the university could validate "quotas." As one who supports "affirmative action" (properly defined) and opposes quotas, I am simply hung up.

FURTHERMORE, if the court rejects the university's contention that academic credentials are only part of the basis for admission - that the school has a right to take subjective factors into consideration - the result will be a triumph of mechanization. Law schools will take the grade on the LSAT (a nationally administered admissions test), combine it in some fashion with the applicant's undergraduate average, and the first-year class will pop out of the computer.

Presently it will be spring in real earnest, and with spring there will come the shedding of outer garments - and the moment of truth. So bend and stretch and grimace, men, ballplayers or not. The season that separates the trim from the blubbery is almost at hand.

But the day of reckoning cometh.

Understand the formula employed by the University of Washington Law School, my student would have been out in the cold along with the "minority" applicants.

Furthermore, if the Supreme Court goes all the way with De Funis, it may well sandbag all "affirmative action" programs. Regrettably, as in De Funis' instance, "affirmative action" has often been implemented by setting up racial quotas - a system I believe to be both obnoxious and unconstitutional.

Over the past quarter of a century I have known perhaps a hundred students who were extremely talented but tested badly: two years ago I had a young man who graduated summa cum laude, did brilliant work in constitutional law, and persistently turned up in the 40th percentile on the LSAT.

Under normal conditions he would not have been admitted to Zonko Law School, but my faculty colleagues and I mounted a full-court press in his behalf. We wrote to the admissions committees of several distinguished law schools, explaining that Mr. X went cataclysmic when faced by those tests, that indeed he had busted his college boards and had been admitted as a "risk," and that we were confident he would do well in law school. He was admitted to a top school and, last I heard, was on his way to being editor of the law review.

Now admitting somebody who tests badly, because he gets strong references, is on the surface hardly comparable with taking him or her because of skin pigmentation. Yet, unfortunately, they do fall into the same category of subjective decisions.

In each instance "special considerations" come into play. As I understand the formula employed by the University of Washington Law School, my student would have been out in the cold along with the "minority" applicants.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Soviets let others have the glory

The Soviets have a way of doing things.

Unlike the Chinese — or most other countries, for that matter — they care very little about saving face. As long as they get what they want they are perfectly willing to let other people pose as heroes.

The pattern is clear in the Kennedy-Khrushchev correspondence during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, much of which has been excerpted by Edward Hunter from a declassified State Department release and published in a remarkable little "psywar" journal called "Tactics." The correspondence shows Khrushchev at his wildest.

Kennedy finally admitted the truth of what Sen. Kenneth Keating had been trying to tell him for weeks. The Soviets did have long-range atomic missiles in Cuba. The young President, who had been browbeaten by Khrushchev at Vienna, taxed the Soviet dictator with the fact, and said, "I must tell you that the United States is determined that this threat to the security of this hemisphere be removed."

Khrushchev's reaction was to say that only defensive weapons were in Cuba — the most he permitted himself to say was that they were "means" which Kennedy regarded as offensive. Khrushchev persisted in saying that "the vessels now headed for Cuba are carrying the most innocuous peaceful cargoes."

MOSCOW MOVED to stop the active fighting on the Sinai front the very moment that the Israelis threatened to undo the success of the Egyptians in seizing the east bank of the canal. It is surely significant that Kissinger has had a much easier time with Egypt's Sadat than he has had with the Syrians. The Suez Canal is important to a world that will have to reckon with Russia on the oceans; the Golan Heights, on the other hand, are important only to the Syrians and the Israelis, who can squabble about them forever so far as Moscow is concerned.

So watch the pattern unfold. The Soviets will let Kissinger have all the glory for settling things on the Sinai front. The U.S. will provide the technical means for putting the Suez Canal in operation once more.

After that the "oil spigot" in the Persian Gulf will be at the mercy of Soviet gunboat diplomacy. We will get our oil on sufferance. And the Israelis will still have to remain on an economically debilitating war footing to protect their still unsettled strategic boundaries.

The pattern for this type of Soviet accomplishment is all in the Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange about the Cuban missile crisis. Why hasn't this declassified correspondence, which, as Ed Hunter of "Tactics" says, presented a scoop that required no digging, had more extensive analysis?

How aware is Henry Kissinger of its meaning? We'd give a good deal to know.

Bill on medical forms pondered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio school officials who complained about state-required forms containing medical information on students may get some relief soon.

A bill making its way through the General Assembly removes a requirement for parents to obtain a witness' signature and lets parents prohibit their children from receiving emergency treatment.

The law as enacted last year requires schools to obtain and keep on file completed forms from parents to use in case of emergency. The trouble has been, officials said, that many parents just haven't complied.

Rep. Kenneth R. Cox, D-41 Barberston, sponsor of the bill to simplify the requirements, said he had complaints from at least 20 schools in his area.

His bill does away with the witness requirement, and asks parents who do not want to authorize emergency treatments to say what other action the school officials should take.

It also does away with a requirement for schools to send copies of the forms along with students traveling to ball games, track meets and other extracurricular activities off the school grounds. As the bill passed the House and went to the Senate it required copies to accompany participants, not students just attending the events.

The bill didn't escape criticism on its way through the House. Rep. James Thorpe, D-50 Alliance, said the forms "ought to be done away with."

"No doctor is going to perform surgery and risk a lawsuit without talking to a child's parents first," Thorpe told the House. "I know I wouldn't do it if I were a doctor."

"I agree with the intent and the well-meaning part of this idea, but it just is not going to work."

Rep. Gene Damschroder, R-85 Fremont, a freshman conservative whose proposals haven't gone over well in the Democratic-controlled House, scored a victory of sorts when his wife and family visited a debate on a major campaign financing bill.

Damschroder, a private pilot, offered an amendment that would allow candidates to exclude airplane travel expenses in campaign spending limits. The amendment was approved without objection — to his surprise.

"I had a speech ready," he said.

Ohioans who want to pay $50 for a set of 1973 vanity license plates can begin placing their orders with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles effective June 1.

Apparently you will not find Gov. John J. Gilligan in the line. Press Secretary Robert Tenenbaum said the governor doesn't want "to shell out that kind of money."

Tenenbaum didn't mention it, but Gilligan travels in state cars with state licenses, anyway.

The new law lets motorists pick any combination of letters and numerals up to six to spell out names, slogans or short messages on a first-come basis.

Obscenity won't be allowed, said Motor Vehicle Registrar C. Donald Curry.

Taft, Metzenbaum back minimum wage

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

He really enjoys a good spanking

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are average young people, except for one thing. My husband sometimes likes to have me spank him. And I enjoy spanking him, too. It's the good, old-fashioned spanking kids used to get. He lies across my lap and I spank him quite hard on his bare bottom. This is sort of a part of our sexual relations.

It seems harmless enough since we both enjoy these spankings, but I have begun to wonder does this mean that there is something wrong with us? Have you ever heard of this before?

NAMELESS IN OHIO

DEAR NAMELESS: Yes, but as long as it remains within harmless bounds and takes place by mutual consent, and in private, it doesn't necessarily constitute a problem. However, should it ever seem to be getting out of control, then you and your husband should seek psychiatric counseling without delay.

DEAR ABBY: Our cat, Don Gato, is our problem. You see, we have two dogs and they are rather mean. One of them licked Don Gato's head till he was bald, and the other played so rough with him that Don Gato nearly lost an eye and ended up ruptured.

It's really not the fault of the dogs. They are chained up outside and Don Gato teases them.

Don't tell me to keep Don Gato in the house. We can't because he won't use the litter box.

Area Church ServicesCatholic church ponders role of homosexuals*By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Homosexuals can express their sexuality in a manner that is consonant with Christ's teaching," says a recently formed Catholic organization seeking rights for homosexuals in the Roman Catholic Church.

However, guidelines newly issued by United States Catholic bishops say homosexual acts "are a grave transgression of the goals of human sexuality and of human personality, and are consequently contrary to the will of God."

Although conflicting in their conclusions, the two statements point up an increasingly open concern in the churches to the status of homosexuals, a formerly sidestepped, taboo issue.

It is a "social and moral phenomenon that the church has yet to tackle," says the Rev. John F. Harvey, a theologian-psychologist of Alexandria, Va., who is organizing the first Catholic center for counseling religious personnel on the problem.

Challenges to the traditional negative church attitude toward homosexuality have surfaced in Protestant denominations in recent years, and since last fall, have emerged explicitly in Roman Catholicism.

At its annual meeting last week in San Francisco, the National Federation of Priests' Councils authorized a task force to "formulate a critical and contemporary theological analysis of homosexuality."

The group is to include several "gay men and women" as consultants. The objective is to develop recommendations for the church "in forming practical attitudes toward homosexuality and homosexuals."

In taking the step, the federation of 130 affiliated councils, including two-thirds of the official diocesan priest senate in the country, dropped a previous committee's report treating homosexuality as an acceptable pattern.

It had been prepared by a study group headed by the Rev. Ramon Wagner of Milwaukee. It termed the bishops' approach to homosexuality as "at best, inaccurate and insensitive, at its worst, it is a misrepresentation of data and a cavalier disrespect for human lives and dignity."

The report was quashed by the federation's executive board as incomplete, and the further study authorized. However, the federation urged repeal of "all civil laws which

'Open house' is planned for Bush's golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bush will be honored at 'open house' from 3 to 6 p.m. April 7 in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bush, 197 Virginia Circle in Wilmington. The occasion is the elder Bush's golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Bush formerly of Jeffersonville, and the former Miss Pauline Williams, a teacher, were married April, 5, 1924, on the 31st wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Williams, and the day following the 29th anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

C.D. Bush.

After their marriage, they went to Clarksville where he was a merchant until 1946. They lived in Washington C.H. until 1955 moving then to Wilmington. He is now associated with his son at Bush's TV.

They have three granddaughters, Sharon and Susan of Wilmington, and Mrs. James (Sandi) Clawson, a recent bride who lives in Jeffersonville.

The couple requests gifts be omitted.

Jeff circles meet

The Virginia Circle of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Rowena Cummins. The circle leader, Mrs. David Groves, opened the meeting with a poem "The Heaven's Declared the Glory of God," by Helen Steiner Rice, and "Friendship is a Blessing."

Business before the circle meeting was the appointment of committees for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet. Cards were signed for the ill members and roll call was answered by naming a favorite hymn.

Miss Helen Fults gave devotions. The program topic was "Hymns." One of the most popular, "Christ the Lord is Risen" was written in the 1770's. Several hymns were sung by members with Mrs. Ralph Davidson at the piano.

Mrs. Davidson will be the April hostess.

A salad course was served.

Have a joyful Easter breakfast

EASTER BREAKFAST — Baked Scrambled Eggs may be served with such help-yourself toppings as snippets of cheddar cheese, crisp bacon bits, chives sour cream and tomato sauce.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're planning an Easter breakfast for six, we suggest making Baked Scrambled Eggs the main course.

This is a new way to treat eggs that we're enthusiastic about. If you've ever felt uneasy about scrambling as many as 12 eggs at one time in a skillet, we think you too will enjoy this method. We suggest offering four help-yourself toppings with the eggs because we find both family and guests always like such help-yourself service. With homemade rolls accompanying this main course and fresh fruit as a starter or ending, this is a most satisfactory menu.

BAKED SCRAMBLED EGGS

1/4 cup butter
12 large eggs
3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Toppings, see below
Cut butter into pats and distribute over the bottom of a 13 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan. Preheat oven to 350 degrees and during the preheating place pan in oven just until butter melts; shake pan to distribute butter evenly.

Meanwhile, in a medium mixing bowl beat together the eggs, milk, salt and pepper just until whites and yolks are combined. Pour into baking pan.

Bake in the preheated 350-degree oven until eggs are thickened throughout but still moist — 12 to 15 minutes, depending on how done you want the eggs. As mixture begins to set, after about 7 minutes of baking, gently draw a wide metal spatula or pancake turner completely across the bottom of the pan; as eggs continue to set, repeat this process a few more times so large soft curds are formed.

Remove the eggs to a warm serving platter. Serve at once with the help-yourself Toppings.

Makes 6 servings.

Toppings: In four small bowls place 6 slices crisply cooked and crumbled bacon; 1 cup coarsely grated cheddar cheese; 1 cup commercial sour cream mixed with chopped chives to taste; about 1 1/2 cups hot tomato sauce.

Mrs. Garringer guest speaker

Mrs. Harvey Heironimus, the new president of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church, presided when the members met in Persinger Hall for their first meeting of the year.

Mrs. Heironimus opened the meeting with a Scripture reading taken from the Song of Solomon. "Lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth." The group then sang "In My Heart There Rings a Melody" accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Wheat at the piano.

The program chairman then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. J.O. Garringer who spoke on the Jewish Religion. She told of the holidays celebrated by the Jewish people, stating that the important holidays compared to our Easter and Christmas, but that each Sabbath was also a holiday, beginning with sunset on Friday night until sunset on Saturday. She also spoke of the Orthodox Jews who strictly adhered to the old Jewish customs, the Reformed Jews and the Conservatives, the latter with more relaxed customs. Her talk was most interesting and informative, and ended with a very enthusiastic question and answer period.

After a short business meeting in which the president mentioned important dates to be remembered, the Spring Presbytery in Lancaster, April 3, also the Retreat at Geneva Hills April 22 and 23. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Rollo Marchant.

"Symbols of Easter" were the devotions given by Mrs. Herb Stolsenberg. She named the twelve symbols appropriate to the Easter season. The Palm Leaf, depiction the entry into Jerusalem, Money bags and Silver, betrayal and treachery, Crowing of the Cock, as a warning, Cup and Cross, bitterness and suffering, Swords and Staff, murder weapons, Sword and Ear, impulsiveness of Peter, Rope, by which Jesus was led away, Crown, mockery, Nails, suffering, Sponge, on a staff, thirst and the Lily, symbol of Easter and immortality. Mrs. Edwin Thompson sang "Jesus Lived in Nazareth" and Mrs. Heironimus closed with a prayer.

After the Mizpah Benediction, members were invited to a beautifully appointed tea table, centered with a lovely arrangement of daffodils, the yellow color scheme also carried out in the delicious refreshments.

Members of Circle One were hostesses for this meeting.

Plans drawn for benefit bicycle ride

Tentative plans for the second annual ESA Million-Dollar-Bike-Ride for the support of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital have been set by Alpha Theta's committee chairmen.

The general chairman for the event is Mrs. John Bernard; route chairman is Mrs. Jerry Hoppes; the treasurer is Mrs. Don Gibbs; recruiting chairman is Mrs. Tom Rankin, and publicity chairman is Mrs. Ron Hoxsie.

Mrs. Roger Thompson is the philanthropic chairman for the chapter.

The basic idea of the bike ride is for each participant to have one or more sponsors who will pay a certain amount of money per mile ridden. The only qualification to ride is to have at least one sponsor.

Sponsors may be individuals or businesses. All proceeds brought in by the riders will go to St. Jude's—the hospital that takes patients and gives them total medical care and treatment with no charge regardless of economic status, nationality or race.

Awards will be given in several categories. A trophy will be given for the fastest rider; a portable television set will go to the one individual who brings in the most money, and in the four age groups separate awards will be given for the one who brings in the most money.

These four groups are: Younger than third grade accompanied by a parent; third grade-eighth grade; ninth grade-twelfth grade, and 19 years and older.

Also there will be a contest established for Washington school students grades 9-12 vs. Miami Trace grades 9-12 for the school bringing in the most money. An engraved traveling trophy will be awarded to the winning school which can keep the trophy for one year.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority urges individuals to challenge individuals and groups to challenge groups for the 20-mile ride beginning and ending at the Washington Savings Bank parking lot. The date is May 19, — a Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Next time you make split pea soup, try seasoning it with dried crumbled marjoram.

WSHS students prep for play April 5-6

By MARY JO BURRIS

The Washington Senior High School production, "The Mouse that Roared" is now in its fourth week of rehearsals. This year's cast is remarkably larger than last year's, with 31 people, yet this appears to be an asset. The play is progressing smoothly to date, due to a lot of hard work, mutual respect and consideration among the cast, crew and the directors.

In the original production, Peter Sellers played the title role of Tully Bascom. This year, Donnie Smith is recreating Peter Seller's role. Barb Oswald is cast as Gloriana the Twelfth, the monarch of Grand Fenwick. Other lead characters include Don Wheat as the President of the United States, Lynn Sagar as Countess Mountjoy and Brian Galloway as Prof. Konkintz.

The play, a lighthearted comedy, deals with the economic perils of Grand Fenwick, a mythical miniature

'Senioritis' hits WSHS

"Senioritis". It's that time of year again.

It happens to all of us sometime. It's close to the end of the year and all of the seniors are looking forward to graduation. They are anticipating vacations, summer jobs, loafing or possibly college in September. So naturally the average senior is starting to relax a bit and as a result, school work starts to slip. I'm not saying that I might not fall into this pattern also, but I'm warning against it.

I don't think grades are the only things that students should strive for; but it can't be stressed enough how important they are thought. It's what colleges (if you are going to college) base a student on, along with your ACT or SAT scores in considering your application. If grades drop in the last grading period, colleges will notice that and it could make a difference in your future college life.

"Senioritis" plagues most schools and it could develop into a big problem if not checked. So hang in there and keep up the work people. There's only eight weeks to go!

Deny oil shortage was planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil company spokesmen have told a Senate committee that the current oil shortage was not planned.

Executives of Exxon Corp. and Standard Oil Co. of California said their companies spent billions during the 1960s exploring for more oil despite the developed capacity throughout the free world to produce more oil than was needed.

The testimony was given to the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on multinational corporations Thursday, at the end of two days of hearings on partnership arrangements between major American oil companies in Saudi Arabia and Iran.

George T. Piercy, Exxon vice president, said his company spent $2.4 billion in the United States and $1.6 billion on overseas oil exploration during 1964-73.

G. L. Parkhurst, retired Middle East coordinator for SoCal, said that in addition to expanding production in the Middle East, SoCal spent more than a billion dollars in the United States and conducted exploration programs in 20 other countries during the 1960s.

Parkhurst defended the joint ownership of Arabian American Oil Company in Saudi Arabia by Exxon, SoCal, Texaco and Mobil as "the most dramatic overseas American enterprise which has ever existed."

Beecher House 'white elephant'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The so-called "Harriet Beecher Stowe Home" here is little more than a "white elephant" as far as the city is concerned.

City Council this week tabled two resolutions to endorse its renovation by the state and commit the city to taking over maintenance.

Councilman Charles P. Taft, himself a historian, noted that the famed author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" only lived in the house about 10 months during the 1840s.

Mini-arbitration system readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO has chosen Columbus as the first site for a new mini-arbitration procedure, the department's secretary-treasurer said Thursday.

Jake Clayman told newsmen the IUD held a meeting here Thursday to discuss and try to establish the expedited arbitration plan. Leaders from 10 major unions attended the gathering.

Under the mini-arbitration plan, a panel of beginning arbitrators is chosen by both management and labor. One of the arbitrators meets with both sides whenever a grievance develops and after listening to what they have to say, renders a decision.

Anders Greenhouse, CCC Highway-E, has consented to house the flowers as a courtesy to the American Cancer Society until they are picked up to be distributed in Fayette County. The flower represents the symbol of "hope" as does the American Cancer Society.

Daffodils are also the first flower of spring, and appear about the same time as the April Cancer Crusade is launched.

4-H Club Round-Up

MULLIGAN STEW
Fayette County has been participating, along with 87 other Ohio counties, in providing to public schools a series of six half-hour films featuring fun-to-learn activities and projects designed to teach good nutrition.

Jack Sommers, Fayette 4-H agent, has indicated that the "Mulligan Stew" series is being shown to 5th graders in all county and city elementary schools. About 500 youngsters have viewed the film, and as a result, know that 4-4-3-2 is a magic clue to good health and sound bodies. By the way, 4-4-3-2 means that to have good health, you need to eat a well-balanced diet every single day; a diet consisting of 4 servings from the bread and cereal group, 4 servings from the fruit and vegetable group, 3 servings from the milk group, and 2 servings from the meat group.

Highly professional, "Mulligan Stew" has won national acclaim for its production, and in just its first year of use in Ohio, over one million youth have viewed the six-film series.

"Mulligan Stew" is a "now" type program featuring today's upbeat music, youth doing most of the acting, and ample doses of nutrition education repeated in the plot and music. Other on-camera guests include astronauts and world-famous food authorities and scientists.

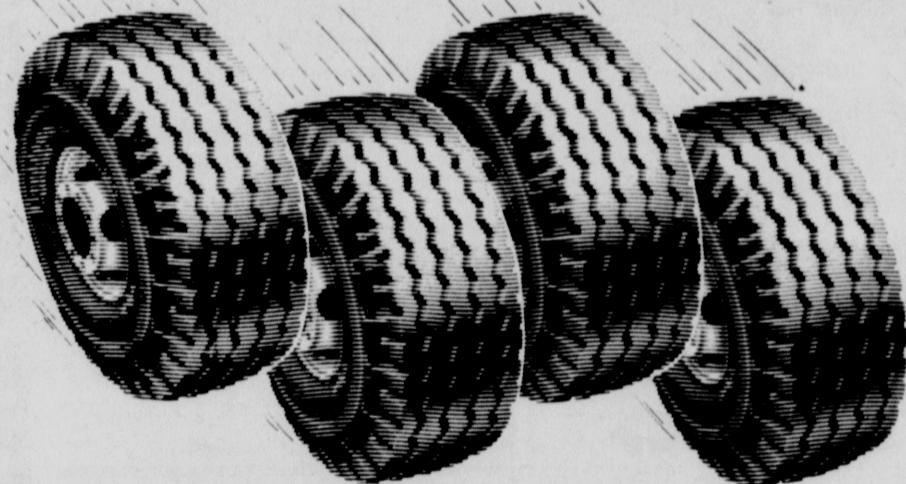

Many schools throughout Ohio and the United States have conducted these highly successful 4-H nutrition programs as a part of school activity periods or in regular classes to supplement health and science classes.

Literature especially developed for Mulligan Stew is used to help youth reinforce "why they are what they eat".

Boyle trial testimony set Monday

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — One more juror and two alternates are still needed for the murder trial of former United Mine Workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle — and they are expected to be chosen today.

But court sources say testimony won't begin until Monday morning because the trial will be adjourned immediately after the jury is sworn in order to give the prosecution the week-end to line up its first witnesses.

So far in the first four tedious days, confined entirely to jury selection, eight men and three women, one of them a great-grandmother, have been accepted by opposing counsel who interrogated 135 persons in the warm, high-ceiling Delaware County courtroom.

"We will finish the jury today," said chief prosecutor Richard A. Sprague, who already has successfully prosecuted eight other defendants — four of whom pleaded guilty — for the murders of Joseph "Jock" Yablonski, his wife Margaret and daughter Charlotte.

The 72-year old Boyle, who has pleaded innocent, is accused of arranging the 1969 "hired gun" assassination of Yablonski, a union rival he defeated for the UMW presidency three weeks prior to the killing.

Witnesses at previous trials have testified that $20,000 in union funds, falsely earmarked for organizing in Tennessee, was authorized by Boyle to pay for the Dec. 31, 1969 executions in the Yablonski's rural Clarksburg home in southwestern Pennsylvania.

The trial was shifted here at the request of Boyle's lawyers on grounds that the defendant couldn't receive a fair hearing in the soft coal country where Yablonski lived.

A member of the Yablonski family showed up for the first time at the Boyle trial on Thursday.

Self-dealing by Sohio under fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has called for a thorough investigation of what he labeled self-dealing by Standard Oil of Ohio.

The senator said Thursday that Sohio paid $3 more per barrel than the going market price for crude oil purchased in January from British Petroleum, Ltd., which holds a 25 per cent interest in Sohio.

BP profits, boosted in 1973 when it raised the price of crude from $1.55 to $7 per barrel, climbed even higher when Sohio paid $10 a barrel in January, Metzenbaum charged.

"Anytime there is self-dealing of this magnitude, the transaction is suspect," Metzenbaum told a news conference.

He said earlier in the week that the Interior Department is expected to begin investigations soon into dealings between American oil companies and their foreign affiliates.

Metzenbaum also accused Sohio of withholding information he requested, "trying to cover up its massive profit-making machine."

BP will gain a controlling interest in Sohio by 1977 when the Alaska pipeline begins volume production, the senator said.

DANIEL E. WRAY

Wilson agency names manager

A Troy man, who is an experienced business manager of automobile dealerships, has been appointed general manager at the Billie Wilson Chevrolet agency, 333 W. Court St.

Daniel E. (Dan) Wray, has been named general manager of the Washington C.H. Chevrolet dealership by Billie Wilson, the agency's president.

The 51-year-old Wray succeeds Bill Hendren, who served as general manager of the automobile agency since 1970 before resigning from the position recently.

Wray, an avid outdoorsman who has spent the past 25 years in Troy, plans to relocate in Washington C.H. by late this summer.

Before accepting the local position, he served as assistant national sales manager with the Miller Meteor Division of the Wayne Corp., Piqua, for the past two years. The Miller Meteor Division firm manufactures and sells Cadillac ambulances and hearses. He also served as a factory sales representative with the Piqua-based firm before becoming assistant national sales manager.

He was general manager at White Allen Chevrolet, Dayton, for 3½ years. He also served as sales manager with the company. Before joining the Dayton Chevrolet firm, Wray sold automobiles for Tipp City Motor Sales and Davidson Chevrolet in Troy.

A native of Clark County, Wray was graduated from Springfield High School and has attended a number of General Motor in-service training schools. He is a past president of the Dayton Auto Dealers Association.

Wray is a World War II veteran, serving three years in the South Pacific with the Marine Corps. He was discharged with the rank of master sergeant.

He is a member of Franklin Masonic Lodge No. 14 in Troy, the Miami Valley Council of Scottish Rite, Dayton, and the Antioch Shrine Temple in Dayton and the Troy Methodist Church. He and his wife, Mary K., are the parents of four children.

Along with sharp vision and hearing, owls possess an eerie ability to slip soundlessly through the sky. Downy tips on their flight feathers eliminate the whirring sound made by most birds' wings when they beat the air, says the National Geographic Society.

BP will gain a controlling interest in Sohio by 1977 when the Alaska pipeline begins volume production, the senator said.

Narcotics agents speak at Shrine Club meeting

Two undercover narcotics agents from the Franklin County Sheriff's Department presented a program to members of the Washington C.H. Shrine Club at the regular monthly meeting Thursday night in the Lafayette Inn.

Undercover agents Steve Martin and Mark Barnett told the Shriners about drug use today and displayed samples of several different types of drugs and instruments used by drug users.

The two officers also burned a sample of marijuana to help Shrine club members determine how the drug smells and also told the Shriners of several of their experiences. The two men also fielded questions from the 69 club members and their guests for approximately two hours.

The program was arranged by Robert McArthur, club president.

Robert Cannon and John Morris, co-chairmen for the Shrine's ceremonial which will be held in Washington C.H. during August, reported on the progress of the event.

THE CO-CHAIRMEN said they had met with representatives of the Aladdin Temple Shrine in Columbus and several new candidates are needed for the ceremonial.

Charles Daugherty, ambassador of the Aladdin Temple Shrine, presented membership jackets to Cannon and Noah Parrett. The two men won the

Find skeleton in woods

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cuyahoga County authorities said a skeleton found Thursday in a woods in North Royalton may be that of the missing Christine McWeeny.

The remains were found just east of the Valee Lake Golf Club by a 16-year-old golf course groundskeeper.

Deputy Coroner Lester Adelson said the skeleton definitely is that of a woman.

He said efforts will be made immediately to identify the skeleton through dental plates.

Miss McWeeny, 18, has been missing since last Oct. 25.

Cleveland police have charged 26-year-old Lee Schroeder with murder in her death and have conducted an intensive search for the body.

Police had scheduled a search for the body today in Wallace Lake in Berea.

jackets for obtaining new members for the Columbus organization.

Daugherty also presented a membership program in which he announced all the awards that will be given for obtaining new Shrine candidates.

President McArthur announced that the next meeting will be held Thursday, April 25, in the Lafayette Inn.

Republicans look over candidates

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican leaders from 13 Midwestern states will look over their party's leading candidates for the 1976 presidential nomination at a miniconvention opening here today.

The showcase of candidates is expected to dominate the convention. But there also will be serious talk about improving morale among the party's rank-and-file, President Nixon's prospects of remaining in office and selection of delegates for the 1976 party convention.

Illinois Republicans hosting the gathering originally counted on only 500 persons attending the meetings and were forced to turn back many applications. Now more than 1,000 prominent Republicans are expected to attend.

One Republican enthusiastic about the size of the conference said, "A threatened organism will grow. That's why countries breed in war, and that's why Republicans are getting riled up."

Another official said, "Let's face it, we're perhaps at our lowest point since 1964. We have to start back up the ladder."

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, who already has announced his intention of seeking the nomination, will be the leadoff speaker tonight.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford, California Gov. Ronald Reagan and former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller are also in the spotlight.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Clyde Fitch, 27, of Ashville has been awarded damages of $31,661 in federal court because he was inducted into the Army on the basis of an erroneous draft number.

U.S. District Judge Carl Rubin found that Fitch was entitled to damages because he "did not receive fair, just and equitable treatment at the hands of the United States of America..."

Young bike rider hurt

Disorderly conduct charge filed following accident

A young Washington C.H. boy was struck by a car, city police reported today and a Fayette County Sheriff's deputy charged a driver, who had driven off the road and into the mud with disorderly conduct. Two other minor accidents were also investigated.

Six-year-old Shawn A. Johns, of 423 Eastern Ave., reportedly rode his bike through a stop sign at the intersection of Grace Street and Eastern Avenue and into the path of an oncoming car driven by Don M. Curtin, 28, of 611 Wilson St.

The boy was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital where he was treated for neck and back pain and later released, police said.

City police checked the mishap at 6:40 p.m. Thursday.

Francis S. Cupp, 59, CCC Highway W., was charged by Deputy Sheriff Don Cox with disorderly conduct at 9:23 p.m. Thursday after he had driven his car off Jamison Road, near the CCC Highway-W intersection into the mud.

WHEN DEPUTY Cox arrived on the scene to investigate the mishap, Cupp used abusive language and was arrested, according to the report.

Cupp is free on $100 bond and is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court at 1 p.m. Tuesday on the disorderly conduct charge.

Part of a truck fell off, striking a car driven by Donie H. Oyer, 44, South Solon, at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Sheriff's deputies reported.

The mishap occurred on U.S. 35, 12 miles west of Washington C.H. in Jefferson Township, when Oyer was following the truck. The hood of his car was damaged along with the undercarriage and right front bumper. The truck was driven by Keith Hall, 22, of Washington C.H.

A semi struck parked car owned by Mathew E. Wood, 915 E. Market St., at 3:45 p.m. Thursday doing moderate damage.

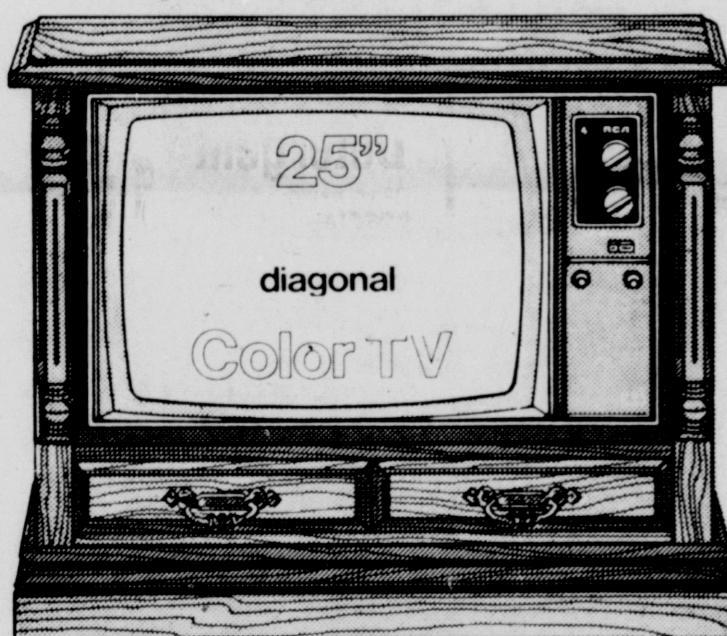

The driver, Howard L. Jessie, 34, Suring, Wis., was turning his truck around in the Union 76 station parking lot, corner of Lewis and Market streets and Columbus Avenue, when the rear of his trailer struck the parked auto.

He said he thinks the calves, which are worth $100 to $130, are being sold to individuals, who then presumably feed and fatten them for sale or slaughter.

Cheney said highly mobile rustlers may have pilfered more than 1,500 head of Montana cattle last year, along with 2,000 to 3,000 sheep. He also said horse rustling was on the rise with about 100 known thefts. The latter, he said, is increasing throughout the western United States because the market is the best ever.

Kleindienst will enter guilty plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, through lawyer, has told prosecutors he is willing to plead guilty to a misdemeanor charge in connection with his 1972 Senate testimony about the ICC antitrust case, the Washington Post said today.

Kleindienst has tentatively agreed to the arrangement, and in return for the plea "expects to receive no prison sentence and believes that he will not be disbarred from the practice of law in his home state of Arizona," the newspaper reported.

The story said Kleindienst's lawyer has told the Watergate special prosecutor's office that the former Cabinet officer is willing to admit he made false or misleading statements about the ITT case during Senate hearings on his confirmation as attorney general.

The question involves whether Kleindienst was pressured by the White House in his handling of the case, the Post said.

Although a final agreement has not been worked out, Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski has indicated he probably will accept a misdemeanor plea from Kleindienst, the Post quoted several sources as saying.

The story, by Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, said Kleindienst is out of the country and that the prosecutor's office declined comment.

Kleindienst resigned as attorney general on April 30, 1973. He had succeeded John N. Mitchell, who currently is on trial in New York on charges of perjury and obstruction of justice.

WSHS, MTHS bands entered in contest

The Miami Trace Symphonic Band and the Washington Senior High School Concert Band will compete in the Ohio Music Educators Association's District 14 band contest Saturday.

The bands will perform in the Wilmington High School gymnasium. Miami Trace will present its prepared numbers at 8:30 a.m. with the Washington Senior band taking the floor at 10:55 a.m. The performances will be rated by a panel of three judges.

Following their prepared numbers, each band will be asked to sightread another selection before yet another judge.

All the judges ratings will be tabulated and a single rating will be compiled. Each of the bands obtaining a "superior" rating will compete in state competition next month.

Senior citizen tax pamphlet now available

To help prevent the elderly from overpaying their income taxes, Congressman William H. Harsha is making a tax pamphlet available to senior citizens in the Sixth District.

"Even though efforts have been made to simplify the tax code," Harsha said, "nearly half of the elderly overpay their income taxes because the law is so complex or because they are unaware of legitimate deductions, credits and exemptions open to them, according to recent Senate hearings on the subject."

"With so many elderly Americans struggling with limited incomes and inflation as it is, they should not have to lose much needed dollars in overpaid income taxes. Consequently, I have obtained copies of a pamphlet published by the Senate Committee on Aging which could assist the elderly in avoiding such a costly mistake."

Harsha said the booklet, entitled "Protecting Older Americans against overpayment of Income Taxes," is a checklist of itemized deductions and other tax relief provisions which could be very helpful at income tax time. He also explained, however, that it is not intended to be an exhaustive summary for all available deductions for every conceivable circumstance.

Interested senior citizens may obtain a free copy of the publication, printed in large type for easier reading by writing to Harsha's Washington office, 2457 Rayburn House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20515.

The Jupiter headed for the Panama Canal on Thursday. It will pass through the canal and sail to Puerto Rico for maneuvers in the Caribbean. Prince Charles is a radio officer aboard the Jupiter.

Sam Hurst, 29, of Cleveland, was indicted for trying to run over a state highway patrolman.

Small business fights back at oppression

By JOHN CUNNIFFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) "We have condemned and inadvertently encouraged the manipulation of the national economy for the benefit of the bigs, and at the expense of the small," the writers of the document declared.

Fiery words recalled uprisings of the oppressed, with frequent references to vital decisions made by "a handful of faceless but powerful men," the "infiltration of government agencies," and "trading seats of management between big business and big government."

"What has been proposed," conceded the head of the group that prepared the document, "is revolutionary." His name: Ken Anderson, an Illinois businessman and president of the National Small Business Association.

The association, which promotes itself as "the voice of small business," doesn't as effectively spell out its interpretation of what makes a small business, but it does offer guidelines, such as:

—A small business usually has fewer than 500 employees, a big business more than 5,000.

—A small business usually is a proprietorship, partnership or closely held corporation; a big business is usually publicly owned, listed on a stock exchange or traded in the over-the-counter market.

According to the NSBA, small business is oppressed not only by government and labor, but by big business.

In a presentation this week to members of Congress, the group called for adoption of a national policy to restore to small business "the competitive balance lost to big business, big government and big labor."

The small-and medium-size firms have been injured because the economic policies of our country have benefited the very special interest of three-tenths of 1 per cent of big business and 25 per cent of the labor force," the group insists.

In 1972, it maintains, "a handful of economically powerful giants—only 350-controlled 69 per cent of the assets in corporate manufacturing. These same companies, representing less than one-third of 1 per cent of the country's manufacturing firms received almost 73 per cent of the profits."

In numbers, the association concedes, small business is holding its own, with 10.5 million firms accounting for 98 per cent of the country's total business units, "but in market share, assets and profits, small business is losing ground disastrously."

To these small businessmen, such trends aren't the result of competition or the product of chance. Government policy, they claim, is too often guided by big business and sometimes big labor.

For example, the association claims that in 1969 the effective tax rate of the nation's largest 100 corporate giants was 26.9 per cent, but that smaller companies paid an average rate of about 44 per cent.

The association wants by 1976 the enactment of a national policy to help small and medium business "catch up," and by 1989 a doubling of its share of the market.

To advance these goals it seeks, among other things, a Cabinet-level department of small business, a lowering of capital gains taxes to spur investment and a progressive tax on mergers and acquisitions.

Odd-even gas plans cut back

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

By small steps and great leaps, the great American gasoline numbers game of 1974 is coming to an end.

It started in Oregon when gasoline shortages were at their height and quickly became known to millions of motorists on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts as "odd-even gas rationing."

Now, with the end of the Arab oil boycott, the plan is being dropped in South Carolina, the District of Columbia, New Jersey and at least one Connecticut city and one California county. There are some holdouts — Oregon notable among them; but officials elsewhere say they're thinking too of dropping the system or relaxing its provisions and enforcement.

Other states preserving the plan undiluted include Massachusetts,

Washington, Maryland and Delaware.

The plan, adopted in one form or another in part or all of more than 15 states, was to limit gasoline sales to odd or even days — or different days of the week — depending on whether license plates ended in odd or even numbers.

Actually, it never was a true rationing system. It was a way to allocate limited supplies to cut the panic that had caused lines at gas pumps. In most cases it didn't limit the amount of gas a motorist could burn, only the days on which he could buy it.

The late Charles Hamilton, who wrote English schoolboy stories under the name of Frank Richards, turned out 80,000 words a week for a lifetime output of 72 million words.

Order Portsmouth man to Lima State Hospital

PORSCMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A Portsmouth man who pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity to the twin murders of two young brothers has been ordered to Lima State Hospital.

Franklin Broughton, 23, was sent to the hospital on orders from Judge J. B. Marshall after entering pleas Thursday of not guilty to charges of aggravated murder.

Firemen discovered the bodies of Gary, 11, and Larry Collins, 9, in a burning building and theorized an arsonist may have started the blaze to hide the murders.

Oakland again seeks title

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Oakland A's are grumbling through spring training, a good reason to predict continued controversy and success for the world champions.

"I'm more confident now than I was a year ago that we'll win another World Series," says A's Owner Charles O. Finley.

But his players make it clear they plan to win a third straight title despite, not for, Charlie O.

"He said I'm the worst left fielder in baseball and that my arm is so weak the shortstop has to run into the outfield to take all my throws," reported Joe Rudi, one of the players who lost in winter salary arbitration battles against Finley.

"He said we don't have any stars, we only won because he put together a great club," reported Reggie Jackson, who won the American League's Most Valuable Player award last year and pried a $135,000 salary out of Finley.

through arbitration.

Whether he likes it or not, Finley also has three $100,000 ballplayers in Jackson, Sal Bando and Jim "Catfish" Hunter, and the A's payroll is now one of the highest in the major leagues.

But they sound like the same malcontents who won the 1972 and '73 World Series, not fat cats.

Finley has hired Alvin Dark, one of the managers he fired in the past, to succeed the departed Dick Williams.

The A's are expected to open the season April 4 with only one rookie on their roster, sprinter Herb Washington, who was signed by Finley to serve as a pinch-running specialist.

"That's a joke," said first baseman Gene Tenace when Washington was signed. "This is going to cost somebody who should be in the majors a job."

Hunter, Ken Holtzman and Vida Blue, all 20-game winners last season, and relief specialists Rollie Fingers and Darold Knowles are the stars of the strongest pitching staff in the game.

The batting order should be the same as last seasons, since second baseman Dick Green changed his mind about retiring. Deron Johnson will fill the designated hitter role again.

Johnson drove in 81 runs last season but ranked only fourth on the team, behind Jackson, Bando and Tenace in that department.

Rudi missed 42 games because of various illnesses yet drove home 66 runs. He batted over .300 the second half of the season, raising his final mark to .270, and for that reason was insulted by Finley's offer of a $5,000 raise.

Jackson, 27, batted .293 with 32 home runs and 117 RBI in his finest season and says his $60,000 raises "makes me feel more confident."

Center fielder Billy North and shortstop Bert Campaneris, who combined for 87 stolen bases last year, are at the top of the A's batting order. Catcher Ray Fosse and Green bat in the last two spots after Rudi, Jackson, Johnson, Tenace and Bando.

Bench, Foster pound out homers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Johnny Bench crashed his first home run of the spring over the left field wall and streaking George Foster followed with another to lead the Cincinnati Reds in an 8-1 romp over the Detroit Tigers Thursday night.

Pitcher Clay Kirby hurled seven strong innings, but missed a shutout when he gave up a seventh inning home run to Willie Horton. Loser Mickey Lolich didn't fair so well.

Cincinnati Manager George "Sparky" Anderson said before the contest that the team was trying to gain some momentum as its April 4 opening game looms closer. The Reds are now 9-9 on the spring exhibition circuit.

Both teams were scoreless until the fourth inning when Bench singled. Foster, now batting .413 with 3-4 in the game, doubled and Merv Rettenmund singled both in.

In the seventh Foster opened with a triple to right-center and Rettenmund doubled him home. Lolich, tiring, uncorked a wild pitch on a third strike to Dave Concepcion, moving Rettenmund to third. Andy Kosko doubled, scoring one.

Then Kirby, singled, scoring Concepcion and making it 6-0.

The Tigers inserted John Hiller in relief in the eighth and Hiller gave up back-to-back home runs to Bench and Foster.

The Reds made the trip to Lakeland without pinch-hitting outfielder Larry Stahl who said he was "shocked" when notified he had been placed on waivers.

If no one claims him by Wednesday for the $1 price, he's on his own.

"A year ago they wanted me so badly," said Stahl, who came to Cincinnati from San Diego and hit .274, .244 as a pinch-hitter. "Now I'm nothing."

"I never gave getting out of baseball a thought. I guess it was my age — 32. They didn't give me a good reason for letting me go."

"They said they didn't have room," Stahl said. "Look I'm in shape. I feel like I'm 25. And I want to play. I see some guys who don't and they have jobs. I know one thing for sure, they didn't release me because of my salary."

WCH drops track meet to Frankfort 76-51

Washington C.H. was involved in its second track meet of the season Thursday evening. The meet was a dual event against Frankfort Adena. The Lions squad this year is head coach Dick Roth.

Flyers tie Atlanta 3-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bobby Clarke tried his hat trick on for size and said it fit real well.

"This one was just as important as the one last year against Montreal," said Clarke, whose three goals gave the Philadelphia Flyers a 3-3 National Hockey League tie with the Atlanta Flames Thursday night.

"When I had my first hat trick last year against Montreal, my third goal won the game, 7-6. We were fighting for second place at the time, so that was a big one."

"But tonight we were trying to clinch first place, so this won felt just as good," Clarke added.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the Chicago Black Hawks and Buffalo Sabres skated to a 2-2 tie and the Los Angeles Kings dropped the New York Islanders 4-1.

In the World Hockey Association, the Toronto Toros nipped the Edmonton Oilers 6-5 in overtime; the New England Whalers edged the Cleveland Crusaders 3-2 and the Quebec Nordiques whipped the Los Angeles Sharks 9-3.

WSB breezes by Harris Action 118-61

Mike Allison accounts for 42 points in win

Washington Savings Bank trounced Harris Auction Thursday evening 118-61, in the fifth annual Jaycees Invitational basketball tournament.

The surprising wide margin in points was justified by a sterling 42 point performance by Mike Allison. The big man controlled the boards throughout the game and scored at will. Harris Auction's big boys couldn't handle Allison alone and when they tried to double team him the outside shooting of the Bank was more than enough for them to handle.

Backing up Allison for the Bank was Gary Shaffer with 19, Les Shaffer with 16, Dan Mahoney with 14 and Larry Shaffer and Gary Mount chipped in seven.

Harris Auction was led by Larry Stricker with 16. Stricker was the only Harris Auction player to reach double figures in a fine defensive effort by Washington Savings Bank. Usual high scorer Larry Mowery was held to only four points with Earl Crosswhite backing him up with just five cantos. Harris Auction received scoring from 11 players but the highest scorers next to Stricker was six points by Charles Williams, Mike McFarland and Payton Watts.

The loss was the first by Harris Auction in the seven day tournament which is a double elimination event.

In the first game of the night Dave Dennis Volkswagen defeated Gary Thomas All-Stars 91-78. Stan Kiehl led the winners with 25 points followed by Rick Burton with 18 and Mike Gregg with 13. The losers were paced by Keith Evans with 26 and miff Jones received 16.

The final game of the night had Eldon Roberts Construction defeating Sar-

Bill Foster Duke head cage coach

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Bill Foster, who took losing basketball teams at Rutgers and Utah and turned them into winners, has been named head basketball coach at Duke University, which needs a winner.

Foster's appointment was announced Thursday night by Carl James, Duke's athletic director, who said the new coach was expected on campus tonight and would attend an 8 p.m. news conference.

Foster replaces Neill McGeachy, a Duke assistant who took over the reins when Bucky Waters resigned last September. The Blue Devils had a poor season, finishing in the Atlantic Coast Conference cellar with a 2-10 record and 10-16 over-all.

Foster led Utah to the finals of the National Invitation Tournament this season, where his team bowed to Purdue 87-81, finishing with a 22-8 mark and ranking 15th in the nation.

He was voted coach of the year in District 7 of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and is currently serving as first vice president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Cincinnati Reds
free Larry Stahl

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Leftfield hitting outfielder Larry Stahl has been placed on waivers by the Cincinnati Reds. He will be released outright if not claimed by Wednesday.

Stahl was the second pinchhitter placed on waivers by the Reds this week in an attempt to reduce the roster to 25 players by April 4. Two more must be cut by opening day.

The Reds asked waivers Wednesday on first baseman Joe Hague.

Madlock, Cubs rip Angels, 4-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For a rookie, Bill Madlock is as relaxed as they come. It's the pitchers who have to face him who are starting to tense up.

Madlock, who was acquired in a trade with the Texas Rangers and who is supposed to make the Chicago Cubs forget Ron Santo, has a 14-game hitting streak and an out-of-sight springtime batting average of .592. That's .592, folks — 49 at-bats, 29 hits.

Thursday, Madlock ripped two doubles and two singles and stole home in the ninth inning for the final run in the Cubs' 4-1 exhibition baseball victory over the California Angels.

The only trouble is that if Madlock's erratic glove work continues, he may also field .592.

Meanwhile, the rawest rookie of them all made his debut Thursday. While Madlock is good-hit-no-field, Oakland's Herb Washington is no-hit-no-field. All Washington does is run.

The A's inserted the world class sprinter from Michigan State to run for Joe Rudi at first base in the fifth inning. Cleveland pitcher Milt Wilcox promptly balked him to second and Washington breezed home on Reggie Jackson's single.

Unfortunately, Washington's run wasn't enough to prevent an 11-5 loss to the Cleveland Indians. Dave Duncan's three-run homer in the first inning was the Indians' big blow and loser Ken Holtzman also surrendered a two-run homer to Charlie Spikes.

The injury bugaboo struck the Philadelphia camp when slugging left field Greg Luzinski tore the palm of his hand on a cyclone fence and may miss the Phillies' opener a week from Saturday.

The Phils didn't miss Luzinski Thursday, though. Bill Robinson, another outfielder, smashed a two-run homer to provide a 3-2 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Two more veterans bit the dust in roster moves. Pitcher Chuck Dobson, trying to come back from arm surgery two years ago, was placed on waivers by Oakland and the Cincinnati Reds did the same with outfielder Larry Stahl.

Outfielder Leron Lee, who hit .300 with the San Diego Padres in 1972, was sold to Cleveland and the California Angels shipped outfielder Ollie Brown to Houston.

The New York Yankees wish Texas would get rid of Jeff Burroughs. For the second time in a week, Burroughs delivered a grand slam to knock off the Yanks, this time by a 7-4 score. The hard-hitting outfielder has six spring homers and 22 runs batted in.

Jerry Reuss scattered 10 hits in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates over the Chicago White Sox 6-1.

Fred Patek hit a grand slam and Buck Martinez cracked a solo shot as the Kansas City Royals raked Jim Palmer, Baltimore's 1973 Cy Young Award winner, for 11 runs in five innings and clobbered the Orioles 14-3.

The Cincinnati Reds rapped Detroit's Mickey Lolich and John Hiller for 12 hits, seven of them for extra bases, and clubbed the Tigers 8-1.

Claude Osteen scattered six hits in eight innings and the Houston Astros blanked the Boston Red Sox 3-0. The Montreal Expos exploded for six runs in the eighth inning on Ron Fairly's bases-loaded single, Jim Cox' double and Pepe Mangual's three-run homer.

10. The New York Mets scored five runs in the eighth inning on RBI hits by John Milner, Cleon Jones, Brian Ostrosser, Don Hahn and Wayne Garrett and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3.

Dave Hilton's bases-loaded single in the 10th inning carried the San Diego Padres past the San Francisco Giants 4-3 for their sixth straight victory.

Sunnyside rental plan acceptable

The Fayette County Board of Mental Retardation has decided to accept the proposed plan for the rental of the Sunnyside Elementary school building.

Although final approval from the Washington C.H. Board of Education will be required, tentatively the Fayette Progressive School will rent Sunnyside at a rate of $350 per month during 1974.

Beginning in January, 1975, the rent will be increased to $500. Whether or not the Progressive School continues to rent the facility then will depend on the budget at that time. It is possible that the Board of Mental Retardation will seek a tax increase in November.

Darrell Rutherford, adult program specialist from the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Retardation, was a guest speaker at the board meeting Wednesday night. He explained what state programs are being carried out in adult programs, gave some suggestions for the program here and told the board what steps should be followed to apply for state funding.

Rutherford said that there is some money available for both types of programs, adult and pre-school, which will soon be instituted in Fayette County. He also gave the board a list of all licensed residential facilities for the mentally retarded in Ohio.

The board noted that the Shrine Club has offered to take the students of the Fayette Progressive School to the Shrine Circus. The students will attend the circus in Columbus Monday. Transportation is being provided by the Shriners.

A program of seminars and discussion groups will be held for members of area boards of retardation and for school administrators. The activities for Southern Ohio representatives will be held in Chillicothe April 26-7.

IRS to offer tax assistance here April 11

Wallace R. Kneisel, representative of the district director for the Wilmington office of the Internal Revenue Service, announces that taxpayer assistance will be available to Washington C.H. area residence this year on Thursday, April 11.

Assistance will be offered from 9 a.m. until noon and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. in the Post Office Building, 129 W. Market Street.

Kneisel also cautions taxpayers to mail their returns to the correct office. Last year some taxpayers mailed their federal returns to the state and state returns to IRS. This resulted in confusion and delay.

Federal income tax returns for people in Ohio should be sent to Internal Revenue Service Center, Cincinnati, Ohio 45298. State returns should be mailed to the Ohio Department of Taxation, P.O. Box 2679, Columbus, Ohio 43216.

Auditor wants ruling on abortion outlays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The courts should decide whether the state can pay for so-called elective abortions, state Auditor Joseph Ferguson says.

Ferguson said Thursday he won't okay money for the Ohio Department of Public Welfare to pay for the abortions unless the courts order him to do so.

Elective abortions are those which aren't medically necessary but are desired by the mother. The welfare department adopted a policy last August to pay for abortions when a doctor certifies they are justified.
